APPROVE OF NEW METHOD

Rush County Teachers, in Resolutions, Favor Speaker Who is Not Directly Interested.

PLAN TRIED OUT THIS YEAR

Frank C. Jordan Pleases With Morning Lecture—New Officers Elected This Afternoon.

The twentieth annual meeting of the Rush County Teachers' association, held today in the assembly room of the court house was one of the best ever held by this association. The innovation this year of having one speaker who was not directly interested in school work proved a success. This speaker was Frank C. Jordan, of the Indianapolis Water company.

The meeting was very harmonious and the old question of holding the next institute at Milroy instead of Rushville was not even mentioned. Before adjourning the following officers for next year were elected: W. O. Fox, president; R. H. Glen, vice-president; Miss Evangeline E. Lewis, secretary; Miss Margaret Casady, treasurer; John Geraghty and Miss Gladys Walker, members of the executive committee.

The idea tried out this year in the institute met with approval and even greater things are in store for next year if the executive committee listens to the recommendations of the resolution committee. The resolutions urge that in addition to the regular lecturer that some expert lecturer upon vocational education be secured. This is done in the hope that the teachers will become more interested in this line of work. The complete resolutions as adopted are as follows:

"Resolved, that we express our appreciation of the work of the officers and executive committee for the management of this year's business, and for the excellent program arranged.

"Resolved, that we express our appreciation of the work of Hon. H. S. Bigelow and Frank C. Jordan for the earnest expression of their convictions, believing that such messages are what the teaching profession needs in order to serve the state in the most efficient manner.

"Resolved, That the executive committee secure some expert lecturer upon vocational education in order that the teachers may more thoroughly understand the character of the work to be done, and the best methods of procedure.

"Resolved, that the secretary of the association be paid a salary of $5 per year beginning this year.

Herbert S. Bigelow, who was chairman of the last Ohio Constitutional Convention, delivered two excellent addresses to the teachers. In the morning he spoke on the subject "Education and Government" and this afternoon on the subject "Lessons of the European War." Both of his lectures held the close attention of the teachers and they were more than pleased with them.

Frank C. Jordan, secretary of the Indianapolis Water company, addressed the teachers this morning on the subject "What the Public School Fails to do for the Boy in Equipping Him for the Business World." Mr. Jordan stated that he had sent letters out to prominent men, merchants and manufacturers all over the state asking their opinion on the needs of the school system. Mr. Jordan stated that he asked five questions. The questions were as follows: Do the youths of today when they leave the eighth grade have sufficient know-

GERMAN ATTEMPT FAILS

Russians Say Enemy Can't Break Front on March to Warsaw.

(By United Press.)

Petrograd, Nov. 21.—The German attempt to march to Warsaw by breaking our front between Kiele and Radon has totally failed," is the statement today of the War Messenger, the official organ of the Russian general staff.

"The Germans lost heavily and are in retreat," it stated.

GIRL'S FUNERAL WILL BE SUNDAY

Last Rites Will be Performed Over Myrtle Land Who Was Burned to Death Late Yesterday.

MRS. LAND RECOVERS TODAY

The funeral services of Myrtle Land, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Land, who burned to death yesterday afternoon at their home, 818 West Tenth street, will be conducted Sunday afternoon at one o'clock at the residence by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson. Burial will take place in the Milroy cemetery.

Mrs. Land, who was frantic following the death of the little girl, was somewhat resigned today and has recovered from her illusion that Mr. Land would blame her for the child's death. It has developed that Mrs. Land had gone to one of the neighbors to borrow some salt and had left the child asleep on the bed. It is believed that when Mrs. Land shut the door it awakened the little girl and that she then obtained the matches. The little girl lived but a short time after Dr. H. V. Logan arrived.

NEIGHBORS TELL DIFFERENT STORY

When Put on Stand Those Who Complain of Charles Sorrell to Police Change Tales.

NO EVIDENCE, TO CONVICT

Charles Sorrell was found not guilty on a "blind tiger" charge last night in police court. Sorrell was arrested several weeks ago when the police raided his home in South Pearl street and found a barrel of beer out of which remained several full bottles. Mayor Bebout found that there was not sufficient evidence for a conviction.

Several witnesses were present, being for the most part neighbors of Sorrell. They were not put through any questioning but simply stated what they knew of the alleged transaction. It seems as though the neighbors have complained to the police numerous times but when put on the stand did not tell the same story that was told the police. Sorrell alleged that the beer was for his own consumption. It was brought out that he received five barrels during the month of October.

Mayor Bebout stated that in his own mind Sorrell was guilty but there was not evidence enough to convict.

TRIBUTE PAID "TOM" ARBUCKLE

Four Lodges Join With Odd Fellows in Honoring Rushville Man Elected Grand Master.

PROGRAM IS CARRIED OUT

In Response, Mr. Arbuckle Says Honor Amounts to Nothing if Misplaced.

Fraternalism was never better exemplified than last night when four lodges of the city joined with Franklin Lodge, No. 35, I. O. O. F. in honoring James Thomas Arbuckle, or just plain "Tom" Arbuckle, who was elevated to the position of grand master of the Odd Fellows, the highest office in the order in the state, at the meeting just closed in Indianapolis.

Tom Arbuckle was made to feel that Rushville was proud of him in attaining this high position. The other lodges of Rushville, the Knights of Pythias, Red Men, Masons and Modern Woodmen, showed by their presence at the public reception for Mr. Arbuckle that they are as proud of him as is Franklin lodge and that the honor comes not only to the Odd Fellows but the entire city.

Tom Arbuckle was forced to listen to about as many good and nice things as were ever said about one man in the course of an evening. The reception was held in the Odd Fellows hall and was attended by a fair sized crowd. Samuel L. Trabue, who delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the Odd Fellows, gave two reasons for the smallness of the crowd. Mr. Trabue stated that the weather was one cause and that the other was because the last time a reception was held by the Odd Fellows, the hall was not large enough to accommodate the crowd and no doubt they stayed away last night because they thought they could not get in.

Mr. Trabue declared that the size of the crowd was no indication of esteem in which they held Mr. Arbuckle. Mr. Trabue declared that the honor not only came to Mr. Arbuckle but to the entire city. Mr. Trabue declared that Mr. Arbuckle had earned the honor because of his word in Odd Fellowship. Mr. Trabue welcomed the representatives and visitors from the other lodges and stated that the Odd Fellows were more than willing to let the other orders share in paying tribute to Mr. Arbuckle.

Will M. Sparks represented the Knights of Pythias, and in a brief address stated that this lodge was glad to see Mr. Arbuckle elevated to the high position to which he has just attained. Mr. Sparks stated that the meeting was a fine illustration of how men should fraternalize and such gatherings as this was showing the true teachings of the lodges. Mr. Sparks stated that there was no one so narrow in his views but that would join in paying tribute to Tom Arbuckle.

Will M. McBride, representing Tanpah Tribe, No. 102, Improved Order of Red Men, brought greetings from the lodge. He stated that Mr. Arbuckle was a member of that lodge and that the Red Men had double reason to rejoice because of the honor brought to Rushville by Mr. Arbuckle. Mr. McBride declared that his lodge was carrying out its teachings in paying tribute to Mr. Arbuckle and that he was more than glad to be able to compliment the present grand master of the Odd

TEN BARRELS ARE ADDED TODAY

Total in Belgian Relief Fund is Brought up to Eighty-Seven by By Generous People.

EXTRA CASH AMOUNTS TO $4.25

"A Couple of Friends" Contribute Barrel in Memory of Stewart Beal—Two From Piqua, O.

Ten more barrels of flour came into the Belgian relief fund today, bringing the total up to eighty-seven. And there is enough cash over to buy almost another barrel. Over and above the barrels counted yesterday there was $2.25 in cash. Two dollars more in cash were given today so that the fund now has $4.25 on another barrel.

The contributions came from many sources today. The Ladies Aid society of the Big Flatrock Christian church notified the Republican yesterday evening by telephone that it would give enough money to buy a barrel. W. D. Root of Piqua, Ohio, formerly of this city, sent ten dollars to buy two barrels and Mrs. Thomas McWhinney sent in a check for one barrel.

The Tri Kappa sorority notified the Republican that it would like to help the starving Belgians to the extent of one barrel and "A Couple of Friends," in memory of Stewart Beale, who died recently, sent a five-dollar bill to buy a barrel. Mrs. Alice King of Jersey City added a barrel and Will M. Sparks' class of men of the St. Paul's M. E. Sunday school contributed two barrels. "A Friend" sent in a contribution to buy the tenth barrel reported today. "A Friend From Glenwood" contributed a dollar and Mrs. Noah Tryon also gave a dollar.

W. D. Root of Piqua, Ohio, formerly a resident of this city, today sent by mail ten dollars to buy two barrels of flour for the hungry Belgians. He says in his letter that he desires to help the cause along because it is a worthy one and that he sends his money here because he feels like he is still a resident of Rushville.

A barrel of flour was added by "A Couple of Friends," who did not disclose their identity, in memory of Stewart Beale, who died early this week. This letter which they wrote follows:

"Our friend, Stewart Beale, has entered the last sleep and has been laid away among flowers he loved so well, but his kindly, generous spirit is still with us who are to miss him. Of course, we wish to express our appreciation of him in some appropriate manner and when we thought of flowers there did not seem to be room even for one more piece in that bank of flowers. We can not express ourselves in words as Rev. Tevis has done so well nor could we render any tender service such as his brother and family were privileged to do. So, perhaps the best way left to us is to pass on as well as we may the charity that our good friend spread so truly and so well, and his good will shall go on even though he has been taken to his reward. So, in memory of Stewart Beale we will give one barrel of flour to the Belgian relief fund."

Proof that flour is needed more than any other food and that Rushville and vicinity will do its mite of good in Belgium is found in London dispatches which say that the allowance of bread has been reduced to three ounces because of the scarcity of flour. Even the rich now find it almost impossible to obtain

DATE FOR HEARING IS SET

Commission Will Hold Hearing on Petition For Increase.

The Public Service Commission has set the hearing of the petition of the City of Rushville for an increase in water rates for Friday, Nov. 27. The public hearing on the petition will be held in the offices of the commission in Indianapolis. Under the law the commission is giving notice that everyone opposed to the proposed raise in rates has a right to be heard and this is one of the purposes of the hearing. It is not thought that anyone will oppose the raise in rates as the change is very slight.

DESPERATE BATTLE GOING ON AT LODZ

Germans Are Trying to Extend Their Front For the Advance Upon Warsaw.

MAY BE DECISIVE CONFLICT

(By United Press.)

London, Nov. 21.—A desperate battle is now being waged at Lodz, Russian Poland in which the Germans are trying to extend their front for the advance upon Warsaw.

This is clearly indicated today in Russian, German and Austrian statement received here. A German statement claiming that a victory at Lodz may decide the entire eastern campaign indicates the importance with which the battle is regarded in Berlin.

Reports from Paris today indicate that the Germans may be about to try a new plan of driving the allied troops from their trenches in Flanders by the use of huge steel barges of burning oil. Barges in great numbers have been brought up at the rear together with the great quantities of crude oil.

WORD RECEIVED FROM TENNESSEE

Captain Decker Says Act of Firing at Cruiser's Launch Was Not Hostile But Unfriendly.

U. S. NOT TO REST WITH THAT

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 21.—The navy department heard from Captain Decker of the cruiser Tennessee today concerning the shot fired across the bow of the cruiser's launch while it was attempting to enter the Turkish harbor of Smyrna. The message said: "Act not hostile but unfriendly."

The government will not rest with this report but will carry the matter direct to the Turkish government which already has been asked for its version.

Secretary Tumulty made the first statement after a consultation with the president. He said:

"The public already knows what happened; namely a boat from the Tennessee tried to enter the harbor which the Turkish government had ordered closed. A shot was fired across her bow as a warning. 'A full investigation of the matter is being made and an explanation has been asked from the Turkish government.'"

DECISIVE FIGHT EXPECTED SOON

It is Probable Armies Representing Two Factions Will Meet by Middle of Next Week.

TO BE COSTLY TO BOTH SIDES

United States Ready to Evacuate Vera Cruz, Which Will Probably be Monday at Noon.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 21.—The decisive battle between the Mexican factions is expected to take place about the middle of next week. Administration officials here have been informed by their agents in Mexico City and accompanying Villa's army. Villa has been pushing south as fast as possible, supported by the troops of General Angeles, General Raonl Madero, and General Martiniano Servin. General Obregon, now Carranza's chief general, is moving from Mexico City. Meanwhile reports received here would indicate that Zapata, with his entire force, is moving with the intention of attempting a flanking against the Carranzista forces.

On the surface it is declared in military circles here that Villa should win. He has with him the flower of his own revolutionary army and already some six thousand former Carranzista troops have flocked to his banner. Because of the nature of the ground, however, it is believed likely here that the approaching battle will last for several days and that it will be costly to both sides.

Rumors are current here that Carranza, in order to complicate the situation plans to announce his retirement in favor of General Obregon. Whether this would have the effect of aiding his cause at this time, however, is doubted. A fortnight ago it would have divided the Villa forces but at the present time the northern chieftain is declared to be absolutely certain of the loyalty of his forces.

The United States is all ready to evacuate Vera Cruz. Under orders from the war department General Funston has arranged that all refugees including the fugitive nuns and priests, will be out of the city before he himself starts north which will probably be next Monday at noon.

Miss Lela Davis, who has been seriously ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Jones in North Main street was somewhat improved today.

Elusive Profits

"I make fine profit on those goods — ONLY I DON'T SELL any of them," said the retailer wistfully.

The only profits that count are those which ring the cash register.

Dealers would rather make small profits in practice than large ones in theory.

Goods that sell over the counter and are favored by the retailer are meritorious national products advertised in daily newspapers.

Retailers know that newspaper advertising sends purchasers to their stores.

They know it is easier to sell the goods the public want than to waste effort on nondescripts for which there is no demand.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring back color, thickness and lustre—Everybody is using it again.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

HARVARD LEADS AT END OF FIRST HALF

Upsets Dope Bucket and Scores Twenty-Two Points in Most Important Football Game.

SHE HAS EDGE ALL THE WAY

(By United Press.)

Yale Field, New Haven, Conn., Nov. 21.—Yale met Harvard here today in the Yale bowl in the most important football game of the season. Harvard won the toss and chose to the kick off to Yale. The Blue defended the south goal. Legore ran the first kick-off back thirty-five yards. Yale punted and then came a rapid succession of plays with Harvard steadily gaining. On a beautiful forward pass Hardwick fell across for a touch-down. He then missed a difficult goal. The quarter ended Harvard 6, Yale, 0.

In the second period Harvard again advanced rapidly. A Harvard player fumbled near the line but Francke recovered the ball behind the Yale line. Hardwick again failed to kick.

Yale took its turn at advancing the ball and worked it to Harvard's three-yard line when Knowles fumbled. Coolidge grabbed the ball and ran ninety yards for a touch-down. Hardwick kicked an easy goal. Mahan kicked a field goal for Harvard later in this period. The score at the end of the first half was Harvard 22, Yale, 0.

Santa Claus, Sailor

The "Santa Claus ship" has sailed for Europe, with Christmas presents for a million homes where children are orphaned by the war. We hope that Santa knows as much about navigation as he does about driving reindeer sleighs, and that all those gifts will go to the right places and warm little hearts chilled by privation and sorrow.

Christmas will be a sad festival, at best, in many times a million homes. It will be sadder there than in trenches, for the men are too busy with their fighting to feel the meaning of it. The women who sit alone with folded hands or bowed heads, and the children who lack food and clothing and feel a strange silence and vacancy in the house, these are the ones who suffer. And their misery, in countless cases, is but the beginning of bitter years that will last while they live. To bring cheer into these homes only for a day is much, in these tragic times.

There is more than charity, however in these gifts. There is the lesson the world needs most. The Santa Claus ship is a preacher of peace. It comes from the nation which above all others stands for peace. It represents the very spirit that the festival of Christ means, "Peace on earth and good will to men." Every child whose Christmas is brightened by a toy or a garment from this nation's great Christmas package will know that it comes in the name of another child who is happy and comfortable and fortunate for the very reason that that child's country is at peace with all the world. And that will help to make the next generation love peace and hate war.

In three months after the war started, Europe gave us $300,000,000 worth of war contracts, and the total is rolling up right along. The belligerents are shouting for field guns, munitions and army supplies, submarines, foodstuffs, wagons, automobiles, horses, harness, saddles, locomotives, shoes, and shirts. War, as Gen. Sherman didn't remark, makes a peaceful nation work like hell!

Talking about imports being cut off by the war—Ellis Island, with a capacity for 5,000 immigrants a day, has been receiving only 150.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

An Election Lesson

The Cincinnati Enquirer, staunch Democratic newspaper for years, reprints the following from Leslie's Weekly under the caption: "What the Election Teaches."

That a political ingrate has few supporters and less friends.

That the first gun for returning prosperity has been fired.

That capital will once more begin to seek investment.

That the people prefer prosperity to partisanship, and the statesman to the demagogue.

That business men have discovered that they have a real interest in politics.

That the era of trust busting and railroad smashing is approaching its end.

That the protective tariff still has many ardent friends in the American workshops.

That the labor vote is not controlled by Sam Gompers, but is as independent as any other vote.

That the workmen of Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticut, Ohio, New Jersey and all the other great industrial states, know who fills the dinner pail and the pay envelope and who keeps them full.

That the people are not eager to pay an income tax and also a hun-

X. Y. Z., Frankfort, writes—"What is auto-intoxication? What causes it and what are the symptoms and the cure?"

Reply—The term "auto-intoxication" means self-poisoning. A person will eat the wrong food in the wrong way and in excessive quantities. It ferments in his intestines instead of digesting. This fermentation produces poisoning and the poisoning when absorbed produces auto-intoxication. Here are some of the symptoms following auto-intoxication (self poisoning): bilious attacks, coated tongue, clammy hands and clammy feet; floating spots before the eyes, dizziness, headaches, fugitive pains in different parts of the body, itching of the skin (eczema) constipation, diarrhea, flatulency, etc. The cure for auto-intoxication is a proper diet. Quit eating meats and eggs. Live principally upon fruits, vegetables, bread and milk. Drink plenty of water. It takes a long time of the right kind of dieting to undo auto-intoxication which has been years in coming.

Abe, Muncie writes—"What are barber's itch, ringworm, eczema. What is the distinction. How will I distinguish. Are any of them dangerous and what is the cause and cure?"

dred millions in war taxes in time of peace.

That the people are opposed to a Congress that sat longer and spent more money than any other Congress ever assembled in this country.

That the policy of watchful waiting in Mexico, costing $10,000,000 and 17 precious lives, is not enthusiastically approved in view of the fact that its tremendous cost could have been avoided if this country had followed the example promptly of other first-class powers and recognized the Huerta Government.

That President Wilson's absolute domination of Congress has ended. Defeated members will not feel in the mood to take further orders.

That the Interstate Commerce Commission will concede fair treatment to the railroads or be retired from the public service.

That President Wilson will not be renominated, but that his party will turn to a conservative statesman of the Underwood type.

That if Charles S. Whitman makes as good a Governor of New York as he has made a District Attorney of New York County, he will be the Republican candidate from New York for President in 1916 with a united party behind him.

That the thinking people rule! "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

NEW BANK NOTES RECEIVED

Rush County Bank Has First Received From Reserve Bank.

The Rush County National bank today received the first notes issued by the federal reserve bank of this district located at Chicago. The notes sent here are for five dollars. Only the close observer would see the difference between them and the five-dollar bill now in use. There is a line printed across the top of the bill to show it is a federal reserve bank note. They are designed to take the place of the national bank notes now in use. The First National bank of Chicago, the correspondent of the Rush County National, re-discounted $250,000 worth yesterday and sent some of them here.

Reply—In order to distinguish barber's itch, ring worm, eczema, you will have to have more than simple distinctions which can be made here. Visit a doctor's office. Ask directions and to see his works upon skin diseases. Then sit down to a thorough study of them. Then take a course in medicine and see these diseases in actual life. Then go forth and in a few years make yourself a good diagnostician. It is not for an untrained person to diagnose skin diseases. The facts are very few general practitioners, and good ones too, are able to differentiate skin diseases.

C. M. Writes—"I am very bashful and wish you would tell me how to overcome it. Would soda water sold at fountains help me? Could it be caused by vibration and noise of a machine? I have weak lungs."

Reply—Bashfulness may be overcome by will power. Simply resolve you will not be bashful. I advise you to leave soda water as sold at fountains alone. It does no one any good. On the contrary it probably does much harm more because of the abuse than for any other reason. I do not think your bashfulness could be caused by vibration and noise from a machine. If you have weak lungs you had better look after them and do all that is necessary to make them strong. It may be consumption already has fastened upon you and if it has and is not speedily stopped it will cause death.

bread in Brussels. Soon the whole population will form in one vast bread line.

The information above is on the authority of Jean Van Branden a member of the Belgian relief committee, who arrived in London yesterday from Brussels to consult the American relief commission. He said the situation in Brussels was growing worse daily as refugees are pouring into that city at the rate of 25,000 a day.

"This influx" he said, "is due to a lack of fuel as well as food. Brussels has plenty of coal, but the interruption of transportation makes it impossible to carry coal to remote villages. Refugees are flocking to Liege and other large towns as well as to Brussels."

"The people are entirely dependent on kerosene for both heating and cooking and the supply of this fuel also is becoming scarce. The committee is receiving petitions every day for supplies of oil."

"We are grateful to the American Commission for the 17,000 tons of food which has been distributed in Belgium since the first of November. We have an ample number of volunteer workers to attend to the distribution of these supplies, but the lack of transportation facilities has prevented us from reaching many remote villages which are in sore need of assistance."

"The committee is now supplying 600,000 meals daily in Brussels to 300,000 persons. These meals consist of potato soup, some rice and a piece of bread."

"A small number of these meals are being paid for by persons belonging to the middle classes who are greatly distressed at the idea of accepting charity. They are charged at the rate of one cent for a meal which actually costs three cents. In addition to this, the commission sells bread to those who are able to pay for it using the proceeds to purchase more wheat."

Hoosier Sportsmen Turn Towards
Lafayette Today Where Indiana
And Purdue Mix

GREAT STRUGGLE EXPECTED

On Paper Teams Appear to be Even-ly Matched—Both Low in Conference Standing

(By United Press.)

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 21.—Eyes of all the Hoosier sportsmen turned toward this city today to watch the result of the "biggest" game of the football season as far as Indiana is concerned. With both of Indiana's conference, eleven near the foot of the conference ladder, this game, nevertheless, is the most intensely interesting of the year.

On paper the teams are as evenly matched as at any time within the past five years and one of the greatest struggles in the history of their athletic relations is confidently expected.

Purdue has played three conference games this year winning from Northwestern 34 to 6, losing to Wisconsin 14 to 7 and losing to Chicago 21 to 0.

Indiana has played four conference games, winning only one. Indiana won from Northwestern 27 to 0 and lost to Ohio State 13 to 3, to Chicago 34 to 0 and to Illinois 51 to 0.

Purdue is without the services of Oliphant who was the biggest factor in administering three consecutive defeats to Indiana.

Captain O'Brien, Van Aiken and Abrell look now to be the trio that will be counted on to bear the brunt of the Purdue offense, with Pultz running the team at quarter. Of this quartet Abrell appears the Boilermaker's best bet.

On paper the Crimson quartette seems to have a shade on the Purdue four. Both teams are well fortified at ends with the Purdue pair having had more experience. Both teams have a wealth of good material at tackles while Purdue seems to shade the rivals at guards. Bishop, the Purdue center, seems to be better than either Weiland or Voss.

Up to the present the style of play of the two schools has been widely different. Indiana has depended little on the forward pass, which is the mainstay for the Boilermakers, but on the other hand has a smashing set of backs that will test the strength of the Purdue line. Much depends on the ability of the Indiana secondary defense to break up Purdue's open style of game.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

NEW YALE FIELD IS DEDICATED

Seventy Thousand People Expected to Witness Struggle Between Yale and Harvard Today

NEW BOWL COST HALF MILLION

Crimson is Favored Over Bulldog But Great Battle is Expected.
1,000 Ushers Used

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 21.—In the largest arena in the world and before what was expected to be the greatest crowd that ever witnessed a sporting event anywhere, Harvard meets Yale today in the annual gridiron battle which will dedicate this monster new home of the Blue eleven.

The massiveness of this structure, built around the field where the twenty-two men of the Blue and of the Crimson will clash in physical combat for the honor of their alma maters, fairly takes away one's breath. There are seats for 60,000 spectators in the tier upon tier of steps. On the rim of the bowl have been erected 10,000 additional seats. Graduate Manager of Athletics Everard Thompson announced today that every one of the 70,000 tickets had been sold or reserved three days ago.

In the distribution by allotment of this vast number of tickets Manager Thompson hit upon a plan by which he believes he has completely eliminated the speculators, who had hoped to reap a veritable harvest. Each applicant was made to fill out a blank with his name, address, and class in college. This rule held with Harvard students and graduates as well as those from Yale. Money for tickets had to accompany each blank. Each applicant was numbered up to 70,000. The Yale and Harvard athletic associations received $140,000 which will be evenly divided.

The new bowl cost Yale $500,000 and is made entirely of concrete. The top, which is fifty-five feet above the gridiron is 880 yards—a half mile—in circumference. The person who wants to walk back and forth along the tier of seats until he has covered every tier, would have twenty-four miles of pacing to his credit. The bowl is to be used exclusively for football games, and inside of six years it is expected to pay for itself. There is no standing room in the structure, it took a force of 1,000 students and salaried officials to show the spectators to their seats today.

The approach to the Bowl resembles Uncle Sam's coast defenses. The sloping grassy bank, which rises gradually from the outside to a height of seventy-five feet completely hides the concrete structure.

But in the impressiveness of this great sight we forgot there is to be a football game on here today. Harvard, and rightly too, was favored over Yale in the betting, but there are quite a few who remember Yale's mysterious faculty which amounts almost to ledgerdom in being able to hold a vastly superior Harvard eleven with an inferior Yale team through sheer Bulldog fight and tenacity, and these few snapped up many of the bets made by enthusiastic Crimson rooters.

DESCRIBES OLD FEUDAL CASTLES

Mrs. Demarchus C. Brown of Indianapolis Talks Interestingly on
"The French Chateaux"

STORIES IN CONNECTION

Many Thrilling Incidents in Lives of French Kings of Period are Repeated by Lecturer

"There are many beautiful places in France," said Mrs. Demarchus C. Brown of Indianapolis, in opening her lecture on "The French Chateaux" at the Graham school assembly room last night, "but there are none quite so beautiful as the chateau regions. Since the revolution there have been eight-seven states, but we who love French history like to recall the thirteen original provinces such as Brittany and Normandy."

Mrs. Brown described graphically many of the most interesting old castles of France, many of which have been worn or torn down, and always, in describing one, she told the stories connected with its early history when feudalism held sway in France.

Mrs. Brown said one could not get a real touch of France until the chateaux region was reached. She asserted Paris was not France, but merely the playground of Europe. Tours, she said, is the center of the chateaux district. The places are all still quite innocent of electric lights, she said.

Mrs. Brown described vividly a trip to a typical French inn. She pictured the scenes one might see from the inn window, the cobbled street or the neat, little court yard. Invariably, she said wife is clerk and husband is cook at these inns. On leaving, she declared, it is just like parting from one's family because the husband always comes forth from his immaculate kitchen, dressed in white, and he and the wife, attired in neat black, and the children all wave farewells as long as they can see the disappearing coach.

Mrs. Brown recalled that Carlyle has written that men set up two idols, the church and monarchy. She said it was interesting to note, especially in French history, how when men's idols fail, they tear them down and set them up again to see if they will not be better.

It is the chateaux region which represents the fascinating incidents of French history. The Oise river passes down through this section, the lecturer said, like a blue satin ribbon as it glides gracefully through the landscape. Around Tours alone there are thirty of these magnificent palaces. In this place, she said, the people speak the purest French in all France. It is a town of quaint, old houses with gabled roofs. It also holds a wonderful place in the religious history of France. In Tours are to be found many statues of men whose lives are interwoven with the history of Tours. Among them is Balzac.

Mrs. Brown told of the French Syndicate of Initiative, which corresponds to the Commercial clubs and Chambers of Commerce of cities in United States. She said there was a Syndicate in most every French town which maintained an office, furnished in formation about the country and had automobiles for the use of tourists.

Mrs. Brown first mentioned Chinon, a splendid castle where Charles The Seventh held court for a number of years. At that time the English were still in France and the feudal system was in existence. Along the Oise river are many hills, the lecturer said, and on many were built in the feudal days mammoth ramparts as watch towers, but later they gave way to castles. But even Chinon is gone now, Mrs. Brown said, nothing remaining but a few fragments of the walls and two immense towers.

"Here the memories of Joan of Arc cling to you," added Mrs. Brown

"and you leave Chinon with reluctance."

Mrs. Brown passed on to the castle of Loches on the Indre river. Here, she said, Charles the Seventh found himself surrounded by beautiful people he most cared for and paid no attention to the pleas of Joan of Arc for help. He lived at Loches, Mrs. Brown recalled, with Agnes Sorel, a favorite of his, for many years. She gave her money. Mrs. Brown said, to complete the work of driving the English out of France, which had been started by the Maid of Orleans. She was mysteriously poisoned in 1450 and her body now lies in the chapel at Loches. It is only her gracious presence that enlivens this grim, old fortress, Mrs. Brown declared.

"The name of Louis The Eleventh is also intimately connected with this castle," Mrs. Brown continued. "With all of his cruelty and craftiness, he was one of the greatest of French kings. He rid France of the feudal system. At Loches Louis had safe places to put people who disagreed with him. He prepared a dungeon and in it placed many implements of torture. Some of them remain there."

Mrs. Brown told a story that is repeated by the guides at Loches. A favorite cardinal of Lois' invented a new instrument of torture, a cage of such dimensions that an ordinary man could neither lie down or stand upright in it. It was hung to the ceiling. About the time the cage was completed the cardinal was caught selling state secrets and was the first person to be confined in the cage. He remained there eleven years before he died.

Mrs. Brown described the scenery on down the banks of the Oise. She said as one rides through the sleeping villages in the day time, one wonders where the people are, but when the country is reached, they are found working in the fields, father, mother and children. The most interesting thing about the country she pointed out was the dwellings dug out of the side of the hills. She said many people are born, spend their lives and die in these cave homes.

In closing, Mrs. Brown described three chateaux of a later period which were due to the genius of Francis The First, the egotist, who was full of the confidence of the Italian struggle for the freedom of religious belief was at its height in the reign of Francis, Mrs. Brown said, and his castles take prominent place in these struggles.

RUSHVILLE WINS FROM CARTHAGE

Takes Basketball Game Friday
Night at Graham School Gymnasium by Score of 31 to 18.

TITSWORTH MAKES 8 GOALS

Rushville high school basketball team defeated the Carthage high school team in the Graham school gymnasium last night, 31 to 18. Carthage scored first and looked like they might cause trouble for the victorious locals, who have not lost a game this season, but Rushville soon forged ahead and never was headed.

Russell Titworth was the bright and shining light of the Rushville aggregation. He could hit the basket better than any man on the team. Titworth threw eight field goals, but Martin, center, was not far behind with five goals and one foul goal. Stoops, forward, could not hit the basket as well as usual last night or the score would have been much larger.

Hill, forward, was the best point winner for the visitors. He negotiated three field goals and a foul goal. Pierce, center, threw three foul goals and two from the field. Winslow, forward, and Linscott, guard, each made one field goal.

Although the game started late—about nine o'clock, there was a large crowd at the game. The Rushville rooters were at it most of the game. The teams lined up as follows:

Stoops	Hill
Titworth	Winslow
Martin	Pierce
Brecheisen	Linscott
Guards
Winslow	Dye

Spinal Column, Where the Cause of Disease is Located

CHIROPRACTIC

(HI-RO-PRACTIC)

The scientific method of removing the cause of all disease by adjusting to the normal position the misplaced (subluxated) vertebrae of the spinal column. The subluxated vertebra cause pressure on the Great Trunk Nerves which emanate between them, thus shutting off the transmission of vital current from the brain to some organ or part of the body to which they lead, leaving it in a weakened condition, subject to disease, causing over 95 per cent of all sickness and suffering known to mankind. Chiropractic adjustments remove the pressure (the cause of disease,) restores the vital energy and health returns. I use the hands only. I ask no questions; simply analyze the spine and tell you every place you are affected. ## REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—“I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home.”—Mrs. JOSIE HAM, R. ## DESCRIBES VISIT TO BATTLE LINE

Karl H. Von Wiegand Reaches Place in France Where he Doesn't Have to be Held Back

REACHES FOREMOST TRENCH

There Germans and French Fight
160 Feet Apart—Correspondent Sees 165 Taken.

BY KARL H. VON WIEGAND
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Headquarters of the Arm of the German Crown Prince in France, (via London).—Nov. 21.—Here in the forest of Argonne, where the German Crown Prince, Frederick Wilhelm has his headquarters as commander-in-chief of the fifth army, is to be found what is probably the most remarkable fighting in all the long battle line from the coast to Switzerland.

By special permission of the crown prince, I was permitted to visit and spend a day within his lines. This section of the battle line is exceedingly unique. In some places the foremost German and French trenches are within 160 feet of each other. The main lines are separated by no more than 1,500 yards and extend through the forest in which there has been so much desperate fighting.

The crown prince, smiling and cheerful, received me at his headquarters while at the breakfast table, he remarked:

“You will see something today you will not find in any other section of the theatre of war.”

When I suggested that I be permitted to go to the firing line, he added with a laugh:

“You may go as far as you like, for I know you will come to a place where it will not be necessary to hold you back.”

The crown prince was right. When I reached the foremost trenches, I saw they were fighting the French not more than 160 feet away. As I reached the firing line, the Germans had just stormed one of the French trenches and taken 165 prisoners.

Running on through the forest are the main entrenchments of the German and French armies. The Germans, well-dug in, face their enemies who are within fifteen hundred yards within their main line of trenches. The fighting is constant.

TRIBUTE PAID “TOM” ARBUCKLE

Fellows on his achievement.

John F. Moses, representing Phoenix Lodge, No. 62, Free and Accepted Masons, read a brief paper in which he paid tribute to Mr. Arbuckle and assured the Odd Fellows that the Masons of Rushville were equally glad that one of their number had been thus honored.

Samuel Wagoner, representing Burr Oak Camp, No. 3548, Modern Woodmen of America, also stated that this lodge joined in sending greetings to Franklin lodge and Mr. Arbuckle. Mr. Wagoner declared that the brotherhood of man was well shown by the meeting.

W. M. Naurer, of Vernon, past grand master; W. H. Leady, grand secretary; C. H. Allison, of Russellville, grand senior warden; Mrs. Ella Clark, Bloomington, president of the Rebecca Assembly; Mrs. Harriett Speckelher, Richmond, secretary of the Rebecca Assembly, and Ida S. Van Dorin, past president of the Rebecca Assembly, all responded to short talks in which they predicted Mr. Arbuckle would have a successful year.

Mr. Arbuckle was called on at the close. He was deeply moved and stated that a meeting of this kind was more than he had expected. He stated that he hoped the confidence placed in him would not be in vain, and said the honor amounted to nothing if it was misplaced.

A. P. Wagoner's orchestra furnished music for the reception and souvenirs of ribbons with the name of J. T. Arbuckle and the insigna of his office on them were given everyone attending. Preceding the reception, Mr. Arbuckle and the grand lodge officers were entertained at a dinner at the Scanlan House. Alva Newhouse acted as chairman of the meeting.

One Has to be a Bit Crooked These Days to be Fashionable

(Written for United Press.)
BY MARGARET MASON.

"I my hat on straight, dear?" You never more hear For it's proper angle is not on one ear; "Does my skirt hang straight, love?" Is also old stuff. If chic now it can't be Quite crooked enough.

New York, Nov. 20.—You've simply got to be a bit crooked if you are going to be fashionable. The very newest skirt models are either short to the shoe tops in and front and back. Some are cut in jagged points around the bottom and others are finished in seelops while one daring model advocates that erst-while sloppy effect whereby the front barely touches the boottops and the back just grazes the heels. Along these lines is a skirt whose long tunic edged with fur hangs to the heels in back and just below the knees in front. Under it, only visible in the front is an underskirt to the shoetops. Another skirt shown at the recent New York Fashion Fete was so hung that the length of the front was on a line with the tops of the band of fur edging in back. The effect of a front view then was that of two rows of fur with a pair of tootsies thrust between rows for the back band of fur was set on the whole width of the fur band, longer behind.

The ripple skirts are also very good and invariably fur finished. They are usually circular but some are shown shirred on a hip yoke or even at the waist line.

Never has fur been used so extensively as a dress trimming and the lovely new shades of putty and sand are exquisite in combination with the rich brown of sable, skunk and the less expensive dyed squirrel. Sand and putty are the exact shades their names signify and the former shade especially should prove extremely popular aside from its beauty for it certainly does take sand these days to wear some of the styles.

Black tulle overskirts and sleeves in black velvet gowns continue to be a favorite combination for smart afternoon costumes gleaming here and there with ropes or buttons of jet. Where a relief from such somberness is desired the sand and putty shades are combined with the black with charming results. This color scheme has at last ousted from favor the black and white combinations so long and so dearly beloved. Black tulle over velvet or satin and heavily bedecked with jet continues the queen of evening gowns also. Black lace has made a mild effort to supplant the tulle but as a smart Fashion authority boldly announced that the lace is not to be worn by any woman under twenty-eight its chances for favor can be seen with half an eye are very slight.

As an inevitable outcome of the sleeveless fashion for evening has come the wristless of fur with a fluff of tulle attached to fall over the hand. This dainty little conceit will undoubtedly play the good Samaritan to many an ungainly hand and ill turned wrist this winter.

There is an exciting new shoe or boot rather which comes in white grey or biege buckskin and laces up the inner side of the shoe instead of the front. It is chastely plain and tight fitting save for a saucy little pointed tip of black patent kid stuck on the toe with an effect of piquancy for all the world like that of a beauty spot 'gainst the damask of milady's cheek.

A dashing little debutante wore a pair of these startling boots in white buckskin at the Ritz the other day and you brought up with a start from the tip of her pretty toes to the tip of her pretty nose only to find that it was daintily dusted with rouge on its retromusee end in the very latest mode.

Another pair of comic opera boots sported on the same occasion were of all over black patent kid. They laced up the front to a height half way of the calf where they ended in a swaying black silk tassel.

Some of the quaintest little black patent kid dancing slippers have bright red heels. With this hectic touch to pedal extremities and her nasal appendage milady is certainly going to extremes for her bit of color these days. 'Eh what!

AUSTRIA HAS SUNKEN ROAD

Honved Cavalry, Vienna' Bluest Blood, Butchers Itself in a Hollow in Galicia.

WATERLOO HORROR REPEATED

Bodies of 900 Men Are Washed to a Bloody Mess With the Bodies of Their Horses.

(By United Press.)

Munich, Nov. 1.—(By messenger to London)—Austria has its sunken road, like Waterloo's. The Honved cavalry, Vienna's bluest blood, butchered itself in a hollow in Galicia on October 4. In charging over unknown ground they piled into a deep ditch.

The bodies of the 900 men were mashed to a bloody mess with the bodies of their horses. All the horrors of the charge at Waterloo were repeated.

Under the hoofs of oncoming horses, the dying men writhed and tried in vain to escape being crushed into a great bloody mould. Within ten minutes, what had been Vienna's proudest cavalry regiment was only a gigantic mass of mixed men and horseflesh. The officer who ordered the charge killed himself.

The sunken road tragedy at Waterloo forms part of Victor Hugo's famous description of the battle in "Les Miserables." The French cavalry 3500 strong, had thundered past Napoleon in review to charge the English lines. Suddenly Dubois' brigade on the right came to the brink of the sunken road of Ohain which formed a concealed ravine twelve feet deep between the French and English positions. Hugo's description then proceeds: "Horses and riders rolled there

Secretary of Society in Charge of Sale Hopes Belgian Sympathy Will Not Interfer

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME

Points Out Good Work Resulting in Fight on Tuberculosis by Money Thus Derived

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—Walter D. Thurber, secretary of the state Indiana Society of the Prevention of Tuberculosis, which has charge of the sale of Red Cross seals in Indiana, believes that in the rush of sympathy for distressed Belgians the "white plague" in Indiana may be forgotten. He makes a plea for charity beginning at home.

Thurber issued the following statement today:

"There is nothing warmer in the world than human sympathy," he said. "It always overshadows human selfishness in times of great peril and distress. That's why many of us are opening the strong's of purses often too flat already, to send succor to Europe's war victims. It is the suddenness of it that spurs us to action. The shock which follows the realization of dire peril to our fellow man. Yet Indiana folk, in their sudden pity for the widows, and orphans and battle maimed victims of the war across the sea, must remember that we are grappling with a foe that is at our throats right here in Indiana. This foe is merciless. It is tuberculosis. Its victims are numbered by the thousands each year. Last year it slew 4,108 of our neighbors. In doing so it made hundreds of orphans, wrecked thousands of homes. It left in its wake enough cripples to fill scores of hospitals. We are fighting this foe with bullets called Red Cross seals. It is possible for every Hoosier to support this great fight. Pennies spent for Red Cross seals, extend relief to those already stricken by this relentless foe, and throw up breastworks of prevention that will guard the children of today who might be tomorrow's victims of the 'white plague.'" pell-mell, grinding each other, forming but one mass of flesh in this gulf; when the trench was full of living men, the rest marched over them and passed on."

Two thousand horses, and 1,500 men, according to tradition, were buried in the unken road of Ohain.

Fashion's Furs

Guaranteed Color -- Wear

Formerly women were unable to procure rich black, "lustre-beaming" furs which would not "wear off" or shed, regardless of the purchase price. With the advent of

NAROBIA GUARANTEED FURS

however, came the first lustrous, full-color fur, which is guaranteed not to "rub off" from every day usage. And the cost considerably less than Black Fox, Lynx, or Wolf. The top hair is delightfully soft and silky, the air proof muff beds are lined in high quality fabrics and will not shed or fade upon the gloves or "kerchief." These furs are absolutely moth-proof and styled in the smartest models. The prices are surprisingly low.

Narobia furs are sold in Rushville only by us.

NEW ATTORNEY IS COMING HERE

Chauncey W. Duncan of Greenfield Will Occupy Offices Which Will M. Sparks Will Leave.

SON-IN-LAW OF FRANK WILSON

Does Not Come Here Unknown Because of His Social, Professional and Political Connections.

Chauncey W. Duncan, son-in-law of Frank Wilson of this city, will move to this city and open a law office in the Peoples National bank building. He will occupy the suite of offices where Will M. Sparks, judge-elect, has had his office. Mr. Duncan will move into the offices some time this month, but Judge Sparks will continue to practice law there until the first of next January when he takes office.

Mr. Duncan comes here well recommended and well known. He is the son of the late John T. Duncan of Hancock county. He was educated in the schools of Hancock county, was graduated from the Greenfield high school, the Indiana law school and the law department of Michigan university at Ann Arbor.

Mr. Duncan began the practice of law in Greenfield in 1908. He has there a very well equipped office and has enjoyed a lucrative practice. Mr. Duncan is a Republican in politics and has been very active in the party councils in Hancock county. He was secretary of the county central committee in the last campaign and by his aggressive tactics made a good showing for his party. He was honored by his party in 1912 by being nominated as the candidate for joint senator from Hancock, Rush and Fayette counties. He made a creditable race despite the split in the ranks of the Republican party.

In view of his professional work, political work and social connection here, Mr. Duncan does not come to Rushville a stranger and is almost as well known here as in Greenfield. He married Miss Aliene Wilson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson.

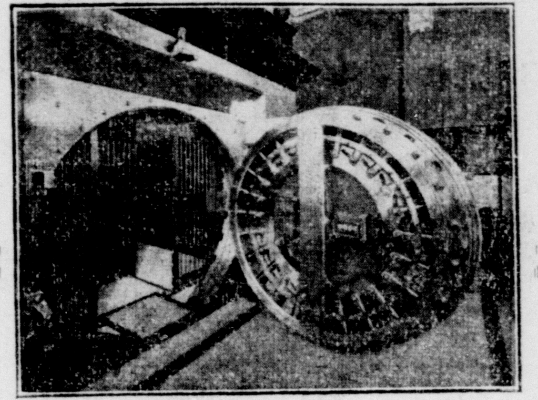

The Greenfield Reporter makes mention of his departure from Greenfield and in closing has the following to say: Mr. and Mrs. Duncan have many friends in Greenfield and Hancock county, where they have been identified with the best society and in church work, Mr. Duncan with the Methodist and Mrs. Duncan with the Christian church.

Their many friends regret very much to see them leave, and wish them unlimited success in their new home. Mr. Duncan will not leave Greenfield before the first of December. He has a great deal of unfinished legal business in Greenfield which will be given his attention in this city frequently until it is adjudicated.

ledge in arithmetic, reading, spelling and composition? Can they do definite things in the office or shop? Are they thorough in their work? Are they accurate in their work? Young men and women who graduate from high school, are they any more able to do definite things than the eighth year graduate?

Mr. Jordan stated that he had no criticism of the schools to offer, but all of the answers he had received indicated that the pupils or the teachers were not giving enough attention to these details. He read letter after letter, from such men as Charles Bookwalter, and the heads of many prominent firms in Indianapolis and through Indiana. Most of the letters answered his questions in the negative. He stated that in Indiana there were 92,000 pupils in the first grade and that this falls down to less than 10,000 in the graduating classes in the high school. He declared that some way should be devised to hold the pupils in school. He suggested that the work be made interesting to the boys and girls. Mr. Jordan said he had read books alleged to be readers that did not contain an interesting story in the entire book.

He suggested that the pupils read editorials of the better magazines and newspapers. He declared that we would do well to look to Germany and its school system. Mr. Jordan urged the teachers to pay more attention to the fundamentals of education and then the children, when they left school, would be more ready to take up their life work.
